THIS IS US

Some things just feel right from the beginning. For Williams Creek Consulting and V3, it was a quick realization that we share the same Core Values and company cultures. These are centered on dedication to and respect for our clients and our people, recognizing that a talented and motivated team generates the best project solutions and service. This common ground provides the foundation for our next chapter, one that we will celebrate together as a merged enterprise.

Thanks to the skills and capabilities of our blended team, beginning January 8, 2018 we'll bring an expanded array of consulting and construction services across a wider network of office locations. Together, we'll provide greater capacity to serve project needs and a higher, more diverse level of technical expertise. What this means for you is access to more resources, a greater ability to deliver results that meet your objectives, and additional acumen to deliver the level of excellence you expect from us.

We are now One Team, focused on creating an amazing company within the framework of our Core Values:

Focus on Clients, Dedication to Employees, Commitment to Excellence and Unwavering Integrity.

ENHANCED BRAINPOWER

"I am excited to announce our merger with V3 Companies to expand the mission our dedicated team has carried over the past 15 years. We will now provide our clients with greater breadth of solutions and geographic reach without sacrificing the high quality service Williams Creek

Consulting has always delivered. Internally, and imperatively, our people will have increased career opportunities while continuing to enhance the communities where we work and live."

Neil Myers, Williams Creek Founding Principal

"Williams Creek Consulting is an ideal fit with V3. We share the same approach to how we treat our employees and our clients ... one rooted in respect, support and service. The merger brings together two firms that share common service lines to build on, as well as additional expertise to bring to our now shared clients. We look forward to being even better able to serve our clients and provide growth opportunities for the people who have made each of us who we are today."

Rob Petroelje, V3 Founding Principal
